Memorandum to the Headmaster regarding YJ

- On request of the Headmaster I rang YJ at 9.30 am today to offer counselling support. I spoke to him for ~20 minutes.
- YJ seems to be emotionally stable, at this stage, and will be hopefully sharing his crisis with his brother tonight.
- I emphasised that he needs to 'busy' him self rather than just ruminating at home. He is doing just that.
- I restated that he can ring me or can take up the offer of external counselling.
