Dear Richard

RE : MS AEB(REF: REDACTED)

Further to our telephone conversation today, I wish to advise that should Ms AEB wish to undertake counselling with me to address the psychological sequelae to her involvement as a victim of childhood sexual assault, my fees for such services would be $100.00 per hour (be advised that currently, the Australian Psychological Society recommends an hourly fee of $136.00). As stated in the conclusion of my report (3.9.94), I envisage that such contact would need to occur over 16-20 sessions; consequently, total costs for such counselling would be between $1600.00-$2000.00. I would be happy to provide Ms AEB with such counselling if and when she is able to pay for these services. As you can appreciate, the length of time involved in the Victim's Compensation Tribunal's determination of these matters renders it impossible to delay payment of this account until settlement of the matter.

Should you require clarification regarding the provision of this counselling, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely

JENNIFER DERRICOTT
