Dear Ms Cunneen

Thank you for agreeing to take an active part in the seminar on Children as Witnesses.

Enclosed is the Draft Program that is now being circulated. You will see where your contribution fits into the overall program and you will note that it allows for you to make a brief formal presentation of about 15 minutes to your discussion group before you tackle the three issues that we hope to define for your group to consider.

The Institute would like to distribute copies of speakers' papers to participants during the seminar, so it would be much appreciated if you could supply a copy of your presentation or paper to us by 26 April. It may well be, of course, that given the above time restriction you will speak to your paper rather than read it. In any event, we would circulate papers to all seminar participants and we plainly need some time to get them printed.

The Institute does not request exclusive copyright to papers published in our seminar Proceedings, which means that acceptance for the Proceedings does not exclude your right to publish the paper elsewhere. Should you decide to do the latter, would you please indicate that the paper was written for presentation to the seminar on Children as Witnesses, held at the Australian Institute of Criminology on 3-5 May 1988, and that it appears in the proceedings of this seminar which are available from the Institute at PO Box 28 Woden, ACT 2606. (The Institute would appreciate your letting us have a copy of any such paper that is published elsewhere.)

I would be grateful if you would complete and return the enclosed registration and discussion group preferences form by 15 April. Please let me know if you have any queries, or if you wish to change the title of your session. In the meantime, I look forward to your participation in the seminar.

Yours sincerely
