INCIDENT:

The lead up to today's incident has been brewing up from the past term & a half 2 terms ago. It started off just in our year group rumbling & something which our whole year group was involved in, it progressed from there to more serious rumbling & positions in the dorm. It never got to the point where anyone was forced into something they didn't want to do though. More recently with the incident about CLB it started a couple of days ago with CLA & CLB & CLA had a verbal argument only jokingly & it resulted in CLB putting both pastes on CLA etc. CLA then was going to get him back last night but didn't so him DFD & DFC did something today (I don't know because I was in pick ban).

I was involved with the happenings over the past 2 terms but recently it has all slowed down until this incident but after this it will stop. It was stupid & immature for it to get so out of hand.

The reason why CLA did this to CLB is because CLB aggravates & picks at someone till they snap & then he wonders why but it's still no excuse.

We asked people with the implement but it wasn't used => weapon is such. Verbal abuse towards REDACTED & REDACTED from REDACTED DFB DFD CLA DFC REDACTED towards REDACTED & CLB
