Hari Om

Thanks Suryamitra.

So it was 'the family' plus 'one other' controlling things for most of the early years.

It is very strange that minute books are missing from 1986. I started managing those books in 1988 so I know they were reasonably correct at that time. Maybe the administrator (who checked the institution over that year) took them and never returned them. There should, of course, be a current minutes book as this company still exists. Dayasagar was one recent director. Anyway, it's recent history (after 1986) is irrelevant to our purpose as it has had no role in the management of anything since 1994-1996 - approximately (when the membership was reduced). Once the Academy was formed, Sat Ashram became dormant – just holding some property.

Part one of detective work is complete.

I have documented the directors/office holders from the beginning in 1977 to 1985. After that we're missing 12 years' worth of minutes so I'll keep digging. 1997 onwards is not so interesting to us.

The project to document all the key decisions, property transactions, donations/loans, etc is extremely interesting but will take a while longer.
