Hari Om

Following on from Bert, we've had two applicants for the package and these have been passed on to Terry. There is one further applicant we're waiting to hear from who has been in touch with Terry and he has encouraged her to apply.

Other than that, all gone fairly quiet at our end. I think a few people have had conversations with Terry but only the above are taking it to the next stage at the moment.

Hello Ahimsadhara

Thanks for you email. I'm well with Suryamitra in the hot seat and I think the rest of the team are keeping their heads above water.

We've had a limited number of applications but no landslide. Everything has settled down considerably. There was the expected negative reaction from some and positive reactions from others.

It is my view that all in all the package has been positively received. We are not liaising with the victims directly other than via the application form and are leaving everything to Terry.

So far so good. The pressure is off considerably.

Kind regards

Bert
