Hari Om,

I can do teleconference if needed but in short my thinking is aligned with Bert points and a proactive approach.

Not least because we asked our sangha who attended the session what they would like to see happen and a key feedback from them was a follow up session for the victims. If we pull back now I think it would be taken in very poor faith by our sangha who are very supportive of this process and of us for undertaking it.

Mangrove is willing and committed to seeing this through.

I think you raised a good point HB. The conversations need to be two sided to be real.

Attached is a summary of the feedback sheets from Terry's session. The numbers after each point indicate the number of similar comments given.
