attached is an updated shedule. Not much luck really.

[REDACTED] is overseas [REDACTED] is not prepared to make any statement until the end of next week at the earliest, Jon Ireland will come back to me with a time for Monday, today. Havent raised [REDACTED] of Terry Saunders.

Did you contact Geoff Pollard Re Craig Miller?

Noel is back in the office. He has spoken to Stephen Healy and is anxious to get on with this matter. I have told him that you wish to speak to him also. He and Stephen want me present when you speak to Noel. I have explained that i am away next week and that you had not intended for me to be there anyway. Can you sort this one out with Stephen.

I have spoken with Geoff Pollard yesterday just to bring him up to date and the issue of what Noel does in the interim whilst the investigation proceeds was discussed. It is my view having spoken to Noel, John Whittaker and Geoff that there is no risk for Noel to resume is his coaching activities in a mixed situation. We would certainly not condone him beng away with any teams at this stage. Some of the kids know he is back and are looking for some hitting. It's a good point made by Noel that if he is not allowed to resume his coaching responsibilities then it can be perceived that he is guilty and some explanation will then have to be given. This also then affects the institute so far has they will want the atheletes to go through counselling.

What do you think and what is the next move?

I am working on the Coaches information and the invoices. I was in Melbourne from Tuesday night and all day yesterday.

Kind reagrds

Craig
