The Kings School
PARRAMATTA. NSW.

Dear Dr Hawkes;

Just some final words on the Kings saga.

I do find the outcome of Kings quite remarkable considering, in November, we all talked and you agreed Kings had breached its duty of care to me. I remember you saying the school could forego some computers to see me clear.

A positive outcome would have achieved peace in my heart. A peace knowing this boy had been apologised to for the torment of the sexual abuse from CU allowed by the Kings School, and recognised for the pain and suffering this man has been through.

I cannot understand however, no-one remembering. Cuff surely, REDACTE also. Someone knew CU was doing this. I didn't tell but someone knew. You know all the facts and circumstances anyway.

Remember you could have easily helped me. You gave me your word. You know I am telling the truth. When bringing up young boys the truth is what counts. You write the books.

I'll not be back. I'll move ahead.

You will feel regret in the coming years.

I feel like a man who has been falsely accused, and Dr Hawkes, you know it. God knows you surely do. God knows that I speak the truth as He is my witness. You now have to live with that.

Sincerely

John Williams
