Discussion with Graham Sapwell and Geoff Webb concerning conduct of the claim by BMJ REDACTED Explained that Mr BMJ's claim has become bogged down as we are still yet to arrange for a psychologist to see Mr BMJ and we are still awaiting his papers from the Government of South Australia.

Mr BMJ has approached me to see what can be done to finalise his claim quickly.

Mr BMJ is the man whom David Osborne has admitted to fondling.

David Osborne, in the file note dated 8 December 2008, said that BMJ said to him "I want you to touch me. I like it".

In the circumstances Graham Sapwell and Geoff Webb felt that if I could settle the matter in the range $15,000.00 to $20,000.00 without requiring documentation and psychological assessment, that it would be well worth trying to do so.

I indicated that I would contact BMJ and tell him that we have still not received wardship papers and see whether he is prepared to contemplate a resolution in the $15,000.00 to $20,000.00 range.
