Dear John

RE: Andrew McCULLOCH

I had a session with Andrew today and think the whole of the problem with the Fraser House boy has been very distressing for everybody. I don't think that anything serious happened and I am quite sure that there are really no grounds for being worried about that.

It is clear that Andrew has to sort his life out a little bit more, and I think it's wise for him to talk to a Psychologist. Probably the best person in the Geelong community for that is Sue Temple and I have arranged for him to see her. My recommendations to you would be to wait and see what happens.

Thanking you I remain

Yours sincerely

W.J.D. McKELLAR
