Introduction

The Human Services Quality Framework (HSQF) is a system for assessing and improving the quality of human services.

The HSQF applies to:

- organisations delivering services funded under a service agreement with the Department of Communities, Child Safety and Disability Services (DCCSDS)¹
- providers of child protection placement services in-scope of licensing funded through Child Related Costs Placement and Support (CRC PAS)
- disability services delivered directly by the department
- providers registered to deliver prescribed disability services in Queensland for the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

The HSQF was developed in collaboration with the non-government sector to reduce duplication and red tape, while maintaining important safeguards. It incorporates:

- a set of quality standards, known as the Human Services Quality Standards (the standards), which cover the core elements of human service delivery
- an assessment process to review the performance of service providers against the standards (assessment occurs at an organisation level across all in-scope services)
- a continuous improvement framework, which supports the participation of customers in quality improvement.

The HSQF is designed to increase administrative efficiency and enable service providers to focus their resources on service provision and continued quality improvement. Its key aims include increasing consistency in service quality and ensuring public confidence in service delivery.

Implementation of the HSQF is occurring in planned phases.

The Department of Housing and Public Works is also implementing a modified version of the HSQF for its Specialist Homelessness Services. The Department of Housing and Public Works website provides further detail about how HSQF is being implemented by that department <http://www.hpw.qld.gov.au/Housing/Homelessness/Pages/Human-Services-Quality-Framework.aspx>. For further information about Specialist Homelessness Services for women and children escaping domestic and family violence (women's shelters and non-accommodation support services) that have transitioned from the Department of Housing and Public Works to the Department of Communities, Child Safety and Disability Services, see Exceptions below.

This booklet

This booklet outlines requirements for organisations delivering services in-scope of the HSQF. It includes information about methods for demonstrating compliance with the Human Services Quality Standards and tools and resources to assist organisations transition to the framework. Information is also provided to help organisations determine how the HSQF applies to their services.

In this booklet, the following terms are used:

- organisations - the legal entities which deliver services. Includes organisations funded by the department as well as providers of NDIS disability services in Queensland.
- department or DCCSDS - Department of Communities, Child Safety and Disability Services
- service stream – the five broad categories of service delivery currently in-scope of the HSQF including Disability Services, Child Safety (Child and Family), Community Services, Queensland Community Care and NDIS.
- services – the specific services delivered within each service stream.

¹ There are a small number of service agreements where HSQF does not apply e.g. for products or assets.

Appendix 1 contains tables showing the compliance requirements or demonstration methods for all service streams in-scope of HSQF.

Resources and Tools

This booklet is part of a suite of resources and tools developed for the Human Services Quality Framework available on the department's website at www.communities.qld.gov.au/hsqf.

Expected benefits

The adoption of the HSQF offers benefits for all parties:

People using services, families and carers	Service providers	Government
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Access to better, more reliable services - Greater focus on individual rights - Confidence in a service provider's systems and processes - Opportunity to contribute to service improvement 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - A clear and consistent framework for planning, operating and improving services - Reduction in administrative burden and compliance costs - A holistic assessment of an organisation's systems and processes - Positions organisations to deliver services in other areas of human services 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - A streamlined, consistent process to monitor the quality of services funded by the department - Increased confidence in government investment in services - Improved public accountability

Human Services Quality Standards

The standards set a benchmark for the quality of service provision. Each standard is supported by a set of performance indicators which outline what an organisation is required to demonstrate to meet the standard. The standards and indicators are outlined on the following pages.

Standard		Indicator
1	Governance and Management Sound governance and management systems that maximise outcomes for stakeholders	1.1	The organisation has accountable and transparent governance arrangements that ensure compliance with relevant legislation, regulations and contractual arrangements.
		1.2	The organisation ensures that members of the governing body possess and maintain the knowledge, skills and experience required to fulfil their roles.
		1.3	The organisation develops and implements a vision, purpose statement, values, objectives and strategies for service delivery that reflect contemporary practice.
		1.4	The organisation's management systems are clearly defined, documented and monitored and (where appropriate) communicated including finance, assets and risk.
		1.5	Mechanisms for continuous improvement are demonstrated in organisational management and service delivery processes.
		1.6	The organisation encourages and promotes processes for participation by people using services and other relevant stakeholders in governance and management processes.
		1.7	The organisation has effective information management systems that maintain appropriate controls of privacy and confidentiality for stakeholders.
2	Service Access Sound eligibility, entry and exit processes facilitate access to services on the basis of relative need and available resources	2.1	Where the organisation has responsibility for eligibility, entry and exit processes, these are consistently applied based on relative need, available resources and the purpose of the service.
		2.2	The organisation has processes to communicate, interact effectively and respond to the individual's decision to access and/or exit services.
		2.3	Where an organisation is unable to provide services to a person due to ineligibility or lack of capacity, there are processes in place to refer the person to an appropriate alternative service.

3	Responding to Individual Need The assessed needs of the individual are being appropriately addressed and responded to within resource capacity	3.1	The organisation uses flexible and inclusive methods to identify the individual strengths, goals and aspirations of people using services.
		3.2	The organisation formulates service delivery that respects and values the individual (e.g. identity, gender, sexuality, culture, age and religious beliefs).
		3.3	The organisation ensures that services to the individual/s are delivered, monitored, reviewed and reassessed in a timely manner.
		3.4	The organisation has partnerships and collaborates to enable it to effectively work with community support networks, other organisations and government agencies as relevant and appropriate.
		3.5	The organisation has a range of strategies to ensure communication and decision-making by the individual is respected and reflected in goals set by the person using services and in plans to achieve service delivery outcomes.
4	Safety, Wellbeing and Rights The safety, wellbeing and human and legal rights of people using services are protected and promoted	4.1	The organisation provides services in a manner that upholds people's human and legal rights.
		4.2	The organisation proactively prevents, identifies and responds to risks to the safety and wellbeing of people using services.
		4.3	The organisation has processes for reporting and responding to potential or actual harm, abuse and/or neglect that may occur for people using services.
		4.4	People using services are enabled to access appropriate supports and advocacy.
		4.5	The organisation has processes that demonstrate the right of the individual to participate and make choices about the services received.
5	Feedback, Complaints and Appeals Effective feedback, complaints and appeals processes that lead to improvements in service delivery	5.1	The organisation has fair, accessible and accountable feedback, complaints and appeals processes.
		5.2	The organisation effectively communicates feedback, complaints and appeals processes to people using services and other relevant stakeholders.
		5.3	People using services and other relevant stakeholders are informed of and enabled to access any external avenues or appropriate supports for feedback, complaints or appeals and assisted to understand how they access them.

		5.4	The organisation demonstrates that feedback, complaints and appeals processes lead to improvements within the service and that outcomes are communicated to relevant stakeholders.
6	Human Resources Effective human resource management systems, including recruitment, induction and supervisory processes, result in quality service provision.	6.1	The organisation has human resource management systems that are consistent with regulatory requirements, industrial relations legislation, work health and safety legislation and relevant agreements or awards.
		6.2	The organisation has transparent and accountable recruitment and selection processes that ensure people working in the organisation possess the knowledge, skills and experience required to fulfil their roles.
		6.3	The organisation provides people working in the organisation with induction, training and development opportunities relevant to their roles.
		6.4	The organisation provides ongoing support, supervision, feedback and fair disciplinary processes for people working in the organisation.
		6.5	The organisation ensures that people working in the organisation have access to fair and effective systems for dealing with grievances and disputes.

Demonstrating compliance with the standards

To help protect people using services and provide consistency in quality, the department requires in-scope human services to be delivered in accordance with the standards.

There are three methods of assessing and demonstrating compliance with the standards:

1. Certification under the HSQF – recognition that an organisation has met the requirements of the standards through a process of independent third-party assessment.
2. Evidence of certification or accreditation against a set of industry standards under an alternative quality framework approved by the department.
3. Self-assessment.

An organisation's demonstration method is determined by the type and complexity of services provided the vulnerability of people using services and, where funded by the department, the amount of departmental investment.

The HSQF recognises that many organisations deliver a range of different services from various locations across the state. As a general rule to simplify processes, organisations only need to demonstrate compliance through one method², regardless of the number of services and/or service sites or outlets they operate.

² In a small number of cases, organisations using accreditation under the alternative quality system that only partially meets HSQF requirements may be required to complete an additional 'gap' self-assessment against the HSQF.

The table below outlines the general requirements for each method of demonstration. The information and tables in Appendix 1 provide more detail to help organisations identify the demonstration method that will apply to their services.

Overview of methods for demonstrating compliance

Method of demonstrating compliance	Details
HSQF Certification	When does this method apply? Generally applies to direct service delivery to vulnerable people. What are the requirements? Organisations providing services in this category are required to achieve and maintain certification against the Human Services Quality Standards. Certification is granted when an organisation has been assessed by an independent third-party (known as a certification body) as meeting the standards. Certification bodies are accredited by the Joint Accreditation System of Australia and New Zealand (JAS-ANZ) which is the government-appointed body for accrediting and monitoring certification bodies and designing certification systems. Organisations are required to contract a JAS-ANZ accredited certification body to assess their suitability for certification. Expected outcome Certification indicates that standards are being met and that organisational performance is being enhanced through continuous improvement.
Evidence of alternative accreditation or certification	When does this method apply? Applies on a case-by-case basis where an organisation is accredited or certified against approved industry standards for specific services. What are the requirements? This method enables an organisation to submit evidence of current accreditation or certification under an alternative quality system, recognised by the department, to demonstrate that their services meet the Human Services Quality Standards. Applications for recognition will be assessed by the department on a case-by-case basis. Factors considered include whether an organisation's existing certification or accreditation aligns well with HSQF and is appropriate for the types of services being delivered. As a general rule, where organisations deliver direct services, the department requires certification under HSQF. Appendix 1 provides information about the alternative standards currently accepted by the department for specific services. The department's website provides further information about the alternative quality systems recognised by the department and includes information about the use of alternative accreditation for providers delivering services in Queensland for the NDIS. It is important to note that, in addition to HSQF, some services are required to implement practice standards such as the Professional Practice Standards/Practice Principles - Working with men who perpetrate domestic and family violence, Practice Standards for Working with Women Affected by Domestic and Family Violence or the Queensland Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Child Protection Peak Practice Standards. These practice standards are an additional requirement and do not exempt organisations from the requirement to demonstrate compliance with HSQF.

	Expected outcome This method indicates that standards are being met and organisational performance is being enhanced through continuous improvement. It also reduces duplication for organisations accredited or certified under an alternative set of industry standards as organisations approved to use this method are not required to complete a separate HSQF third-party audit. However where an organisation's alternative accreditation only partially meets HSQF requirements, a 'gap' self-assessment against HSQF may be required.
Self-assessment	When does this method apply? Generally applies to non-direct service delivery and/or to universal or low-intensity service delivery³. For organisations funded by the department, self-assessment may also apply where the level of departmental investment falls within a set threshold. What are the requirements? Organisations in this category undertake a self-assessment using the department's self-assessment resources to rate their performance against the Human Services Quality Standards. Further guidance on the process is detailed in the Self-assessment and Continuous Guide – Self-Assessable Organisations published on the department's HSQF website Expected outcome Self-assessment indicates that standards are being met and identified improvements are being implemented.

Additional information about demonstrating compliance

The method of demonstration applies at the organisation level across all in-scope services.

As a general rule, certification takes precedence, so if any of your services fall into this category, this is the method your organisation must use to demonstrate compliance with HSQF.

For organisations funded by the department, it is important to note that changes in funding levels may change your method of demonstrating compliance with the HSQF. For example an organisation's demonstration method can change from self-assessment to certification as a result of funding level increases or from certification to self-assessment if funding levels decrease.

The department's website provides further information about the funding threshold for self-assessment. Organisations that receive funding below this threshold are generally exempt from demonstrating compliance with the standards. Further information about this is available on the website.

When funding levels change, organisations should discuss HSQF implications with their departmental contract officer. The department will notify organisations in writing about any change to their method of demonstrating compliance with HSQF resulting from funding level changes and the timeframes that apply to any change.

³ In addition, providers registering to deliver prescribed disability services in Queensland for the NDIS that are not already certified under HSQF or approved to use an existing accreditation under another quality system, must complete a self-assessment against HSQF to meet NDIS registration requirements. These providers then need to achieve certification under HSQF within 18 months of their date of approval as a registered provider with the NDIS. NDIS specific self-assessment resources, available on the department's website, must be used by these providers.

An organisation that already holds HSQF certification is not required to complete a separate self-assessment for services that have a demonstration method of self-assessment.

Organisations that have multiple self-assessable services are only required to submit one organisation-level self-assessment that covers all of their self-assessable services.

Exceptions

A small number of exceptions apply to the arrangements and requirements for demonstrating compliance under the HSQF. These exceptions, as they apply to specific service streams or services, are outlined in the tables in Appendix 1.

In addition to the exceptions outlined in Appendix 1, the department may determine that it is not appropriate for some organisations or services to demonstrate compliance with HSQF or that a different demonstration method will apply than that outlined in Appendix 1. These exceptions will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis.

Women's Shelters

Responsibility for Specialist Homelessness Services for women and children escaping domestic and family violence (women's shelters and non-accommodation support services) has transitioned from the Department of Housing and Public Works to the Department of Communities, Child Safety and Disability Services in response to Recommendation 85(a) of the Not Now, Not Ever Taskforce report.

Services transferred will continue to operate under their current contractual arrangements until notified by the Department of Communities, Child Safety and Disability Services about any changes to HSQF requirements.

Requirement to implement HSQF

Organisations funded under a service agreement with the department

Service agreements outline the terms upon which departmental funding is provided, the services to be delivered, and the way in which the department and the organisation will work together to ensure the delivery of quality and effective services. The requirement to comply with the HSQF is specified in departmental service agreements or subsequent notifications or variations to those agreements.

1. Service Agreement comprises two parts – Whole-of-Government Standard Terms and Funding and Service Details (Community Services and Child Safety or Community Care or Disability Services).

Quality standard requirements are located within clause 3.3 of the Service Agreement – Standard Terms and clauses 4.1 to 4.8 of the Service Agreement – Funding and Service Details. Clause 4.7 specifies that the department may use audit reports as part of contract management processes and in the overall monitoring of compliance and quality.

2. Short Form Agreement comprises two parts - Whole-of-Government (Short Form) Terms and Conditions and Particulars (Service Provision).

Quality standard requirements are located within clause 4.1 of the (Short Form) Terms and Conditions and clause 7 of Short Form – Particulars (Service Provision).

In the Community Services and Child and Family funding streams, Investment Specifications are used in conjunction with the service agreements and provide details of the specific requirements included in the agreements. Investment Specifications are not used for Disability or Queensland Community Care services.

CRC-PAS placement services in-scope of licensing

Providers of child protection placement services in-scope of licensing that are funded through Child Related Costs Placement and Support (CRC PAS) are required to achieve, comply with, and maintain, HSQF certification as a condition of their License to Provide a Care Service.

Disability services delivered for the NDIS in Queensland

Under Queensland's quality and safeguards framework, providers registered to deliver disability services that are prescribed by the Disability Services Regulation 2006 in Queensland for the NDIS are required to demonstrate and maintain compliance with the HSQF. This requirement will apply during transition to 30 June 2019 or until a national quality and safeguards system is implemented for NDIS. Queensland's quality and safeguards requirements are outlined in the NDIS Provider Toolkit – Guide to Suitability available from the NDIS website at: www.ndis.gov.au/

Further information

If you would like further information on how the framework applies to your organisation and your method for demonstrating compliance with the standards, including recognition of other accreditation or certification, please contact a regional contract officer or the HSQF team.

You can also contact the HSQF team if you need further information about tools and resources to support your organisation to meet the requirements of the standards.

Appendix 1 – Compliance requirements

The tables in this appendix show HSQF compliance requirements or demonstration methods for all service streams in-scope of HSQF. Service streams in-scope of HSQF are shown as follows:

Service stream	How services within the service stream are categorised	Includes
DISABILITY SERVICES	Output Category Output Code	Services funded under a service agreement with the department to deliver Disability Services. Disability Services delivered directly by the department.
NATIONAL DISABILITY INSURANCE SCHEME (NDIS)	NDIS Registration Groups	Disability services delivered for the NDIS in Queensland that are prescribed in Disability Services Regulation 2006 and in-scope of Queensland's quality and safeguards framework
CHILD SAFETY (Child and Family)	Funding Area/Investment Specification Service Type Service User	Services funded under a service agreement with the department to deliver Child and Family services. Includes services funded under the Child Protection Placement Services, Child Protection Support Services and Families Investment Specifications. Child protection placement services in-scope of licensing funded through Child Related Costs Placement and Support (CRC PAS).
COMMUNITY SERVICES	Funding Area/Investment Specification Service Type Service User	Services funded under a service agreement with the department to deliver Community Services. Includes services funded under the Domestic and Family Violence, Individuals, Older People and Young People Investment Specifications.
QUEENSLAND COMMUNITY CARE	Service Type Output Code	Services funded under a service agreement with the department to deliver Queensland Community Care services.

Within each service stream, the compliance requirements or demonstration method for services are categorised according to whether they are:

- A. In-scope for certification under the HSQF
- B. Self-assessable
- C. Eligible for accreditation or certification under an approved quality system
- D. Subject to an exception
- E. Deferred.

It is important to note that tables are only included for each service stream where applicable i.e. a deferred table will not be included if a service stream does not have deferred services.

Additional information for organisations funded under Child Safety (Child and Family) and Community Services

From the 1 July 2014, the department commenced using a new service agreement template, referred to as the 'streamlined' service agreement and the majority of services are now contracted on these agreements.

A small number of organisations funded under the Child Safety (Child and Family) and Community Services streams are still contracted on older 'common' service agreements entered into prior to 30 June 2014. As the agreements differ in the way that services are identified or named, separate tables with different colours are provided for Child Safety (Child and Family) and Community Services delivered under the common service agreement [green heading] and those under the streamlined agreement [blue heading].

To map the services your organisation is funded to deliver against the tables, follow these steps:

1. Refer to your service agreement to confirm the funding or service stream you are funded under (Child Safety (Child and Family) or Community Services) and the service types you deliver.
2. Confirm the version of agreement/s you currently have – common service agreement (established July 2010 to June 2014) or new streamlined service agreement (established from July 2014) and note:
 - If services are under a common agreement, these will be listed in the [green] shaded tables.
 - If services are under a streamlined service agreement, these will be services in the [blue] shaded tables.
3. Check the service types you deliver against each of the relevant tables (A–E) in Appendix 1 to determine the HSQF requirements or arrangements that apply in each case.

The tables link directly to the service agreement by identifying the relevant funding and service details as shown below:

Child Safety (Child and Family Services)	Funding Area/Investment Specification
Community Services	Service Type
	Service User

The service types and service users that are included in Appendix 1 for Community Services and Child Safety (Child and Family) are contained within the following versions of departmental Investment Specifications:

- Child Protection (Support Services) – Version 3.1, effective 1 October 2015.
- Child Protection (Placement Services) – Version 2.0, effective 1 July 2015.
- Families – Version 6.0, effective 25 November 2016.
- Domestic and Family Violence – Version 2.1, effective 1 October 2015.
- Individuals – Version 4.0, effective 1 September 2016.
- Young People – Version 2.0, effective 1 July 2015.
- Older People – Version 3.0, effective 1 December 2015.
- Community – Version 2.2, effective 1 October 2016.
- Service System Support and Development – Version 3.0, effective 1 July 2016.

Notes:

- Investment Specifications are subject to change - additions or changes to service types, service users and requirements may be made from time to time. Updated versions are published on the department's website at: <https://www.communities.qld.gov.au/gateway/funding-grants/investment-domains-guideline-investment-specifications>.
- Investment Specifications are not used for Disability or Queensland Community Care services.

Other Exceptions The exceptions below also apply to Disability Services: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Queensland Government agencies: As a general rule, Queensland Government agencies delivering Disability Services are not required to demonstrate compliance with the HSQF. These providers will remain subject to regulation by their own specific sets of quality and safeguard measures. Note this exception does not apply to disability services delivered directly by DCCSDS, which are in-scope for certification. Self-managed disability organisations: Where an organisation is a corporation and the only consumer of the disability service provided is the director, the organisation is not required to demonstrate compliance with HSQF. Funding below a set threshold: Organisations that receive total annual defined term/ongoing funding for services in-scope for certification that is less than the threshold for self-assessment, are generally exempt from demonstrating compliance with HSQF. Further information about the funding threshold for self-assessment is published on the department's HSQF website.

Group and centre based activities (Group/Centre Activities)	In-scope for certification DCCSDS funded Queensland Community Care Providers: Evidence of other accreditation (Home Care Standards) or Self-Assessment
Interpreting and Translation (Interpret/translate)	No demonstration of compliance

Note: Organisations registering to provide disability services with the NDIS that are not already certified under HSQF or have not received approval to demonstrate compliance using an alternative certification/accreditation must complete a self-assessment against HSQF to fulfil Queensland's quality and safeguard requirements for NDIS registration. These providers must then achieve certification under HSQF within 18 months of their date of approval as a registered provider with the NDIS. Self-assessment resources for NDIS providers are published on the department's HSQF website.

Exception: Queensland Government agencies delivering disability services for the NDIS are not required to demonstrate compliance with the HSQF. These providers will remain subject to regulation by their own specific sets of quality and safeguard measures. Note this exception does not apply to disability services delivered directly by DCCSDS.

QUEENSLAND COMMUNITY CARE

To reduce red tape and duplication for providers that deliver both Disability Services and Queensland Community Care services, the department will, as a general rule, accept an organisation's HSQF certification of its Disability Services or an organisation's accreditation under the Home Care Standards (Australian Government) as evidence of compliance with the HSQF for Queensland Community Care services.

Note: Queensland Community Care services have been mapped to NDIS disability services in-scope for Queensland's quality and safeguards framework (refer to NDIS Provider Toolkit Guide to Suitability). Where a Queensland Community Care service registers with the NDIS to provide an in-scope disability service that is different from the mapped service they are currently funded to provide, the NDIS service will come into scope for HSQF certification.
