Dear Alecia,

Thanks for letting me know this. Jyoti is known to us both through her post and as she contacted me directly via email. I replied to her the next day and sent another email a little over a week later (to inform her that we were closing down the discussion on FB).

I replied to the email address she had used but I have not heard back from her. She is very visible to us and with yourself and others will be sent the information from yesterday's meeting once it is written up. I understand her hesitation in contacting us directly and I hope the external third party options that will be on offer will provide a channel that she feels safe to use. That said please let her know that she is welcome to contact me if she would like to.

Let me know if she would like me to resend the emails.

Warm wishes to you Alecia, and to Jyoti

Dear Yogasandhan,

I have been asked by one of Mangroves former 'victims' if she has in any way been considered as a part of the organisation's plans as you work through this. At first it was indicated to her that she was known to the organisation as her posts were deleted (along with many of ours) from the MM site. Previous comments she has made (I believe before the Royal Commission started) have seen her being blocked from the Rocklyn site. However she has never once received any communication from anyone inside the organisation.

Her name is Jyoti [REDACTED], and she has asked me to simply find out if she is visible to you, and if so why she has not been included in any correspondence.

Please do not contact her directly upon receiving this email, but if you have any information pass it on to me (as is her request), I'll let her know, and she can decide from there if she's ready at this late stage to communicate with the organisation directly.

Regards Alecia
