Dear Rabbi Levy

RE: Employee allegation – no further action

This is to inform you that on 07.10.15 FACS received an allegation of child abuse or neglect involving a person employed by your agency.

The details of the allegation are as follows:

Employee:

REDACTED

Relationship or role to child or young person:

Child or young person involved:

Age of child or young person:

Brief outline of allegation:

Caller said there is communication on Wot App from January 2015 up until September 2015 between REDACTED and REDACTED. Caller said the school camp was held from Dec 2014 until Jan 2015. Caller said the communication between the employee and the young person is very clear and explicit and indicates a very clear grooming relationship. Caller said REDACTED has provided REDACTED with a mobile phone against the parents wishes. REDACTED has professed REDACTED love to [REDACTED], [REDACTED] has told [REDACTED] to run away and leave [REDACTED] parents and caller said there is a lot of communication about them being in a relationship. Caller said there were no disclosures of them being in a sexual relationship but caller said it implies that they are.

We are providing you with this information under Section 245C of the Children and Young Persons (Care and Protection) Act 1998.

Section 245C (1)(b) of the Children and Young Persons (Care and Protection) Act 1998 allows for the provision of information from a prescribed body (the provider) to another prescribed body (the recipient) relating to the safety, welfare or well-being of a particular child or young person or class of children or young persons. This may occur if the provider reasonably believes that the provision of the information will assist the recipient to manage any risk to the child or young person (or class of children and young persons) that might arise in the recipient's capacity as an employer or designated agency, regardless of whether the provider has been requested to provide the information.

Section 25C of the Ombudsman Act 1974 requires you to notify the Ombudsman of any child abuse allegation or child abuse conviction against an employee, whether or not you intend to take any disciplinary action or otherwise against the employee, and the reasons for same.

FACS will not be taking further action in relation to the allegation at this time. If you wish to discuss the matter further, please contact me at Eastern Sydney Community Services Centre on 8303 7688 quoting the FACS reference number above.

Sincerely

Karen Burgess
