Hello , I wish to make my submission to the Redress/Compensation issue. Although i feel sorry and sad for those poor souls that where abused, my issue is why should the taxpayer fund any compensation . Surely those people have brought to light there plight with the Royal Commision and the Commision should oversee their case (from the sidelines and with a close off date) but NOT ONE CENT of taxpayers money should be spent for compensation. This is a civil issue between those involved, not the INNOCENT taxpayers of australia. Please remember in a democracy judges don't make decisions on how the australian taxpayer's treasure should be spent.

This is my submission

Regards David Young
